

Con4Mare is an independent consultancy providing high quality professional services for the marine industries, energy companies and leading insurers.

We are currently looking for a

Project Engineer (m/f/d)
Marine Operations & Marine Warranty Survey

Your tasks:

- Planning, coordination and monitoring of international Marine Warranty Survey projects such as Offshore Wind Farms, Oil- & Gas and Project Cargo
- Review of engineering documents and independent verification calculations for marine operations and structural integrity (FEM)
- Structural verifications of marine equipment (FEM)
- Attendance in project meetings
- Supervision of offshore operations partly on-site
- Acting as Field Engineer for marine operations
- Load out coordination and lifting supervision
- Technical support of Con4Mare's Marine Warranty Surveyors
- Continuous improvement of processes

Your profile:

- Successfully completed studies in Engineering (Shipbuilding, Naval Architecture, Marine Engineering, Mechanical Engineering or a related field of study)
- First professional experience in a comparable job environment
- High flexibility to travel (national & international) and dedication to go offshore
- Fitness for going offshore
- Valid offshore certificates are beneficial
- Knowledge of marine environment, shipping and related rules, guidelines and standards preferable
- Affinity to maritime environment
- FEM / structural engineering skills
- Analytical skills
- Fluent English skills in word and writing
- Sovereign and service-oriented approach towards clients
- Structured and independent way of working
- Team spirit and strong communication skills

Our benefits:

- Diverse and exciting tasks with a mixture of office and on-site work
- An international work environment with highly motivated specialists
- Open communication in flat hierarchies
- Considerable personal responsibility

- Support in trainings and skill enhancement
- We offer flexible working hours and the possibility of mobile working
- Office located directly at the Alster lake with a fantastic view on Hamburg, constant supply of fresh fruits and drinks, company bicycles for errands and changing rooms as well as a shower for the Alster run

We look forward to receiving your detailed application in English language including your salary expectation and your earliest possible starting date. Please apply by email to i.roshop@con4mare.com.